"The old order changeth yielding place to new" in school life as in world affairs. Due to the present war involving the whole world new ideas will be introduced and gradually accepted or discarded. Before the termination of this conflict we may be forced to alter our way of life almost completely and we shall do this cheerfully realizing how very necessary it is that we all do our part.

Many of us started our boarding-school life before the war broke out in nineteen hundred and thirty-nine. At first everything continued quite normally, but by degrees new ideas have replaced old ones. Girls from England, Europe, South and Central America and the United States are coming to Compton in large numbers. They have naturally brought with them new viewpoints and customs. Those who have taken an interest in these unfamiliar ways and have tried to benefit by this opportunity have increased their knowledge of the habits of other countries and have broadened their outlook. The many children being sent to this continent for the duration of the war are not only learning new things from us to take home, but at the same time they are teaching us much. We are both changing old ways to allow room for new ones.

This same mutual exchange is occurring between the Allied Nations which are uniting their ideas to reach a successful termination of the war through using the best each has to offer and trying to discard parts of the old order which impede advance.

Those who are finishing school now and in the next few years will be responsible for making this world a better one. It is upon our shoulders that this tremendous burden will rest. At first this realization may startle us and leave us with an incapable and discouraged feeling. However, we may readily overcome this if we bear in mind the example our school days presented.

As an international group we have lived, worked and played.

"How we rejoiced as we struggled and panted!" Remembering this we should be able to work more harmoniously twenty, thirty or forty years on—.

We greatly appreciate the advertising many companies and friends have given us in past years. Due to the numerous requests for war funds we have discontinued soliciting advertisements until after the war and are publishing a year book in place of the former magazine.

May 29, 1942.

Dear Girls:

This is the end of the third School year of war, but how much has happened since I wrote to you all at this time last year! Then, the Empire had been fighting on by herself for a year against frightful odds; now, we have our gallant Russian, American and Chinese Allies, and the expression, "The United Nations", has come into being. Day by day we are becoming more conscious that this is our war. We all have some dear one in some branch of the services, and we have the blackouts on our Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, enemy submarines in our own St. Lawrence, the rationing of certain commodities, restrictions of travel, etc. You have all been asking what you can do here, at school, to play your part, and this, I think, is your answer. Your turn is coming: your task is to prepare yourselves to play your part in the post-war years, in the building of that better world which must emerge after this war.

Arthur Mee in his last book has pointed the way. "The vain-glory, and the pride, the selfishness, the unfriendliness, the moral resentments, the indifference to those whose lot is not cast in such pleasant places, the reluctance to bear our share of the burdens, the idea that wealth gives rights and that those with power can use it as they please—all these must die in that new world which is now being shaped in the furnace of sacrifice." You must bring to that task nothing less than your best. It is given to the young men of the United Nations, who are sacrificing all that is precious to them—their homes and dear ones, their plans for the future, and even their lives—to save all that is fine and noble in the life of the world, for you.

In 1918 we won the War, but in the succeeding years we lost the Peace. Remember that "strength to win the Peace lies in the hearts of men." Life will never be the same again. It must be kinder, simpler, happier for all. If you bring to it a healthy body, a clean mind and a pure spirit you will do much. Are you preparing yourselves to take your places in that great army of men and women who will help in the building of that "Brave, New World" and so win the Peace?

Yours affectionately,

Adelaide Gillard,

"Putt" has contributed greatly to school life since she has been with us. She has made an excellent Head Girl, and is liked by all. We shall miss her sense of humour and cheery smile next year. "Putt" plans to go to college and take up nursing. We all wish her the best of luck!

Class History

Once upon a time (1936) a most peculiar specimen appeared at K. H. C. in IV-A, which shortly went under the name of "a bag o' bones and a hunk o' hair." (Bevan) A year rolled on before it was joined by "Hoop", V-B's great aid in French translation class, and "Cootchie," who in a moment of exasperation beautified the form room wall, by kicking two or three holes therein.

The next year found "Putt" and "Ewenz" in our midst, two practical jokers who livened up many of our classes. Falling "icebergs" were not an uncommon sight in V-A.

"Tash", "Frannie", "P. A.", "Johnny" and Joyce swarmed in upon us in VI-B. The class now being of sufficient quantity and quality(?) was quite able to live up to the reputation of that form, "those brat-tish VI-B's"!

Something was definitely lacking before "Liz", "Bouffie", Xanthe, Françoise, "Angy", "Bev", "Tootie", "Aggie", Rita, "Egout" and "Hank" entered this rowdy crowd.

Through some astounding means, quite unknown to the class, we found ourselves in Matric, and were joined by "Hatch", Shirley and Nancy. Nancy being unused to such company found the strain overwhelming, and retired to recuperate at the end of the second term. "Bouffie" was also unable to finish the last term, as Ireland called her back. The form now lacked experience, which was brought back in the persons of "Mare" and "Kell", our constant source of laughter, two last year's highlights who felt they just had to see what would become of this queer but happy form.

We hope through another miracle we shall get through Matric. We are very grateful to Miss Leonard, who this year happily enough for us, has been our form mistress, the unfortunate victim of all our moods.

Class Prophecy

Last Friday 13, while trying for the 13,131,313th time to split the atom, I got the wrong focus with my ray; there was a huge explosion; the next thing I knew I was floating on a cloud, from which I could see every member the 1942 Matric Class in their future occupations. In other words, I had been shot through space, and it was 1952, and here is what the old Matrics were doing.

Putt was working in the return of vaudeville, as an imitator; Tasch was wandering around England trying to decide whom to marry; P. A., a famous artist was standing in her studio, wearing slacks, a ski shirt, with her hair cut in bangs, smoking a cigarette from a black holder; Xantbe, for some unknown reason was sitting on the foremast of a sailing ship rounding Cape Horn; Fran, mysteriously shipwrecked on an island in the Pacific, was wearing a two-piece sarong of her own invention, and trying to get a sun-burn; Tootie was doing well as a travelling saleswoman for Carter's Little Liver Pills; Mole and Angie were working in a night club, doing the Hula-Hula and the Conga respectively; Johnny was working an elevator in the Empire State Building; Aggie was looking for gold mines in darkest Africa; Ewens, as Miss America for the 7th time in succession, was being hounded by crowds of reporters; Franny Kelley was teaching Babe Ruth how to play baseball; Coochie was happily married and singing "My Hero" to her large family; Rita was taking lessons in stilt walking; Shirley was advertising Ivory Snow on Mary Martin's program; Bevan was operating a side-show on Coney Island; Bouffie was a missionary in China; Bev was selling peanuts outside a McGill "frat"; Stu was running the Compton taxi service; Frannie MacCharles had taken over the DuBarry Success Course; Egout was a charwoman in the Supreme Court; Birks was advertising side burns, the latest hair style; Hatch was picking eidelweiss, outside a little cabin on a mountainside in Switzerland; and last but not least, before I floated down to earth, I saw Hoop giving free shampoos, to unfortunate schoolgirls.

I have now decided to take up prophecy and give up splitting the atom, as, due to present disabilities I am unable to continue with my experiments

THE YEAR

THE COMMUNITY CONCERTS

The first of the Community concerts which the girls attended was held on Tuesday, December 2, when we were extremely fortunate in hearing Eugene Liszt, the young American pianist. His opening selections consisted of a number of Bach fugues and chorals, among which Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring was particularly enjoyed by the girls. Then followed Chopin's famous and beautiful Sonata in B Flat Minor. Mr. Liszt's rare technique was most exhibited in this and other Chopin compositions which he played. The next section consisted of a few shorter pieces by Mendelssohn and Franz Liszt, and the remainder of the programme was devoted to modern compositions. Mr. Liszt received many encores, and was very much enjoyed by all.

Mildred Dilling, the well-known American harpist, was the artist at the next community concert, which we attended on April 20. Her programme was excellent, and the evening was most enjoyably spent. Shortly before intermission, Miss Dilling explained the gradual development of the harp, illustrating her talk with various examples of harps which she had with her. One small Irish harp, which was used before the one of today, is still employed by Miss Dilling to practise on trains while travelling from place to place. The artist played a number of selections from Brahms, Bach and Beethoven, as well as those from other celebrated composers. She concluded her programmes with a few encores, some of which she herself had written.

We attended the last community concert on April 5. The guest of the evening was Mr. Raoul Jobin, tenor, a native of Quebec, who had studied voice in Paris as well as his native city. Mr. Jobin is now with the Metropolitan opera. Most of his songs were sung in French, much to our chagrin, but he ended in singing an aria from Carmen and one from The Vagabond, which soothed us considerably.

On the whole, this year's concerts were very much enjoyed, and we all feel that they have been particularly beneficial.

ANNA MARTIN. Matric.

GUEST ARTISTS

This year we have been privileged in having several concerts.

The first was given by Dr. and Mrs. Raven on November 17. Dr. Raven played the violin, and also accompanied Mrs. Raven on the piano while she sang. Some of the songs were Delia, Sylvia, and Songs my Mother Taught Me. It was altogether a very enjoyable evening. This was Dr. and Mrs. Raven's second visit, and we hoped that they would soon come again.

Two days later Miss Morris and Miss Anderson came to sing for us. They sang for the most part duets with a few solos, and the songs were varied. We were very sorry to see them go, but we consoled ourselves with the hope that they would return, which they did, ten days later. This time the encores would have lasted all night if we had had our way, but we had to go to bed. However, if ever Miss Morris and Miss Anderson should be passing near here, we hope most sincerely that they will drop in, and sing for us once more.

On February 4, Orea Pernel, a well-known violinist, gave us a concert, and charmed us with her playing. Her choice of pieces could not have been better, some were happy, while some were sad. Her accompanist, Bernard Naylor, also helped to make the evening very enjoyable with his excellent playing.

The last concert we had was on February 14. Mrs. Agnes Logan Green came to visit us, and gave us a piano recital. We enjoyed it so much that we asked her, and she very kindly consented, to play for us, very informally, on the next day.

ANGELITA GUIROLA. Matric.

CHRISTMAS PLAY AND CAROLS

On the last Sunday of the Christmas term several girls from various forms took part in putting on a Christmas play called While the Chimes Rang. This was followed by carol singing in the lounge. Several anthems were sung including And the Glory of the Lord by the Glee Club, and a song by the mistresses. There were also several solos by some of the seniors.

The mistresses were then given their presents and after a pleasant and happy evening we went to bed and slept till the rising bell the next morning.

DORIS CRABTREE. VI-B.

DRAMATICS

Dramatics has been very successful this year. Each form has put on at least three plays and some have put on more. The first term the V-A's did As You Like It. Mary Hartmann was excellent as Rosalind. The Pot Boilers was given by VI-B, The Wedding and 'Op o' Me Thumb by VI-A and The Woman Who Understood Men by the Matric form and some VI-A girls. The second term the V-A's put on The Six Queens of Henry which was excellent, and the VI-B's presented The Neighbours and The Dear Departed. The VI-A plays were The Dear, Dear Children and Poor Henry in which Mary Molson portrayed a coloured mammie. The Matric play was Miss Civilization.

In the third term Mary Hartmann again played her part well in The Minuet with Sheena Mackintosh playing opposite her. Among Us Girls by the VI-B's was the play chosen to be given at Milby. The VI-A's put on The Dickey Bird and Art and Mrs. Palmer and the Matric and VI-A play was Hot Lemonade in which Beverley Scripture played a seasick man very realistically.

Again this year dramatics was under the very able direction of Miss Masten. During the year Miss Masten entertained us with her own acting and she has helped us all tremendously. We are very much indebted to her.

NANCY WIGLE.

SENIOR MUSICAL RECITAL

The senior recital was one of "the" musical events of the season. It took place in the Easter term, on a Sunday evening, in the prep. hall, and unfortunately after supper. I say unfortunately because none of the vocal students would eat any supper, claiming that they sang "ever so much better" on an empty stomach. However, the piano students ate heartily as usual. Before her turn each victim would bemoan her plight, and cast last hurried glances at the music; or wail "Oh Miss Masten, do you think it will be all right?"; or "Won't you please give me another note in the third bar of the second page?"

However, there really was no need for anyone to worry, because, on the whole, the recital was a great success, and everyone performed beautifully.

PATRICIA INGRAM. VI-A.

HOME NURSING

Every Saturday morning we had home-nursing classes in the prep. hall. We were divided into two sections, the senior home-nursing being taught by Mrs. Paintin and the junior home-nursing by Miss Wright.

Tuesday nights we had the practical home-nursing.

The seniors had their exams on April 25 and the juniors on May 5. We are pleased to report that every one passed successfully.

GUEST LECTURES

The first lecturer to speak here this year was Dr. Clark, who visited us September 28. He gave a most interesting lecture on propaganda, illustrating his statements with amusing examples of propaganda in various countries. He made us laugh, but at the same time, he spoke in such a way that we definitely knew a great deal more about the subject after than before this enjoyable evening.

On October 18 a famous lecturer on Choral Speaking, Miss de Banke, at Miss Gillard's request, gave us a lecture very different from any previously given here. After speaking about various types of choral speaking, papers on which were written several excerpts from poems, were given to the girls, and we read these chorally; the effect, under Miss de Banke's direction, amazed us all. I am sure we all enjoyed Miss de Banke's lecture very much and hope she will find it possible to return here next year.

JUNIOR DRAMATICS

This year the Junior Dramatics class has worked on eight or nine plays and has produced six plays. Our dramatics class has been divided into three groups. One group is the V-B group, another is the IV-A, and the other is the IV-B and III-B group. The first play this year was called Alice in Wonderland put on by the whole dramatics class. Vora Mackintosh who was Alice acted extremely well. She looked the exact image of Alice with her long golden hair and her clean white pinafore. June Nesbitt the Duchess, was also very good with her gray hair and hoop skirt.

Our next play was called A Christmas Guest. Only about five juniors were in that, the rest were seniors. That was a very lovely Christmas play.

The next one was called Robin Hood put on by the IV-A group. Vora Mackintosh played the part of Robin Hood.

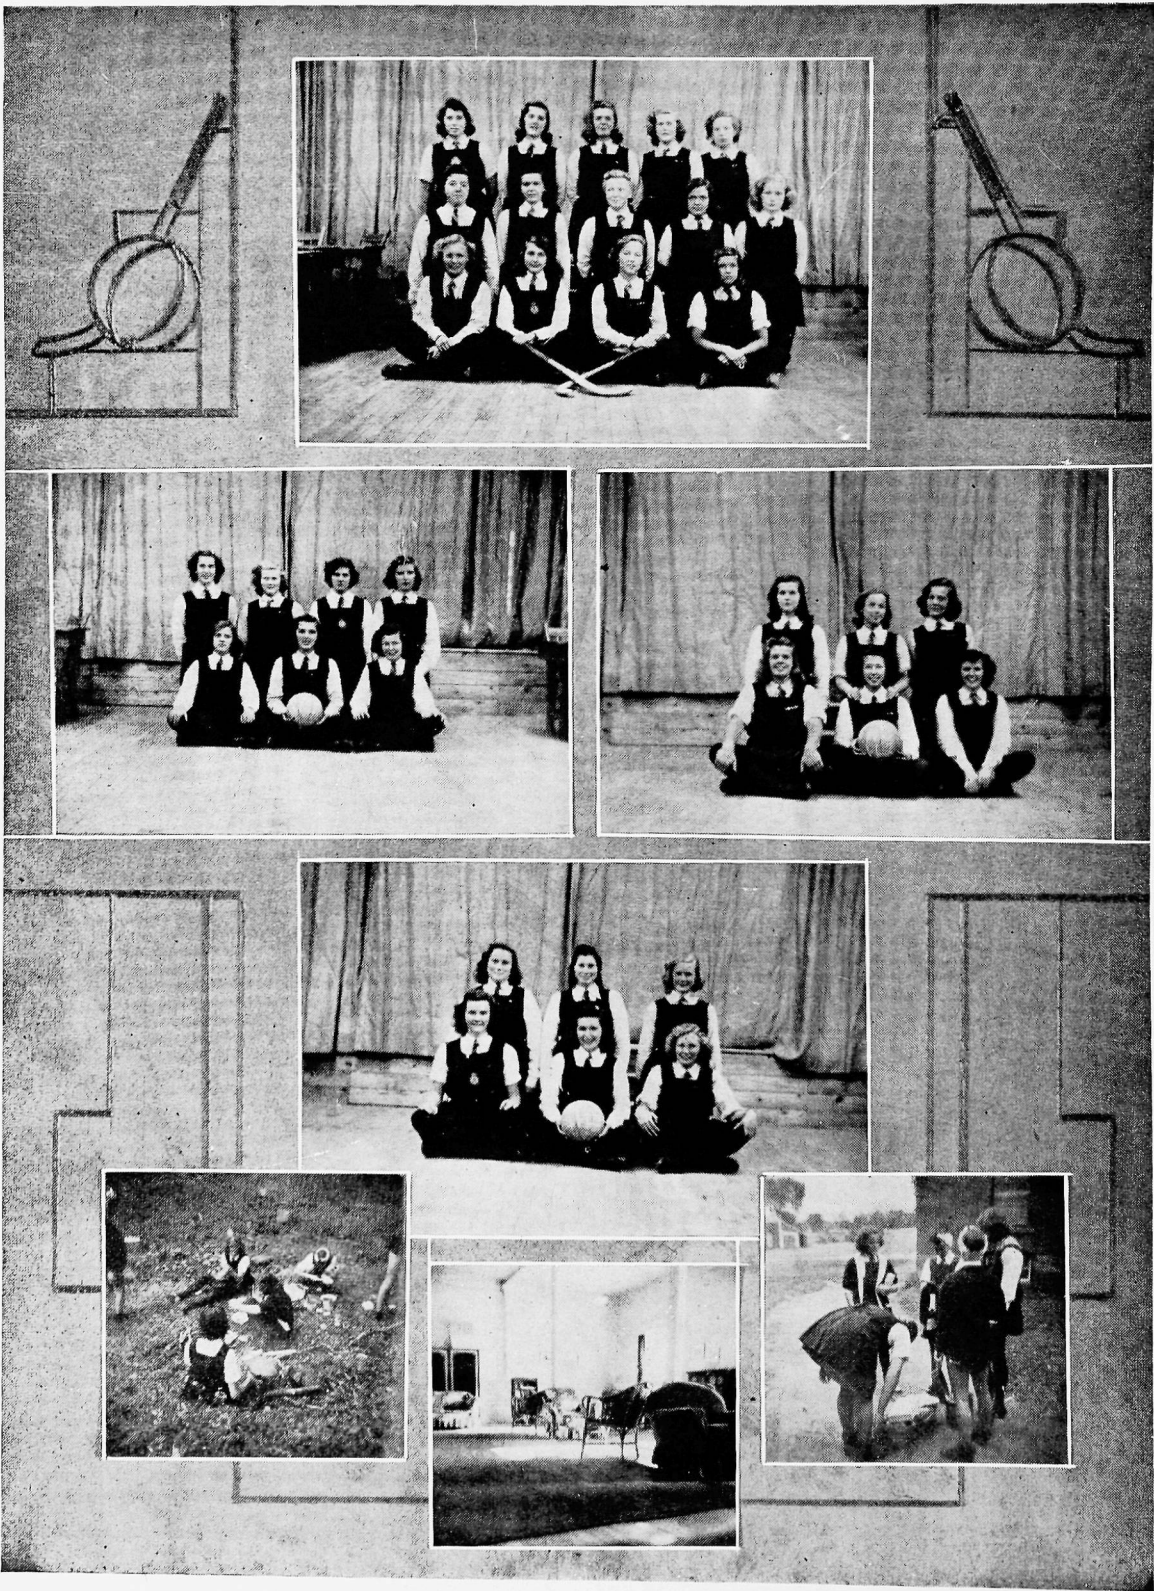

Old Man Taterbug was put on by the V-B group. It was a very amusing play, all about the beetlebug family. The beetlebugs looked very funny in their painted cardboard costumes.

Our next play Fairy Dust was put on by the IV-A and IV-B group. It was the sweetest play this year. The fairies' dance was very clever. Jane Wilson a V-B, played the piano for it.

Our last play called the Double Crossing Cousin was put on by IV-A. This play was made up by Audrey Robinson with the help of other juniors.

Our dramatics class has been a great success this year and we all hope it will be next year.

AUDREY ROBINSON. IV-A.

Sports

SPORTS

This year has really been excellent for most sports. Although there was not much snow or cold weather during the winter for skiing and skating, we made up for it by playing basketball and badminton.

Everyone enjoyed ground hockey as usual, and turned out enthusiastically for all matches, especially for the one against the mistresses. We also had house baseball matches this year.

Tennis has been very popular, and as a novelty we had a Sports' Day this term. After that, however, we had a school of "crocks", but it was so much fun, that we all thought it worth the stiffness.

The pool was not used much in the winter because of the chicken pox, which rather ruined our attempts at house aquacades. However, we all enjoyed our many swims that were just for fun.

I think that congratulations are especially due to VI-B, who won the hockey, basketball, and badminton, and I hope that they will always continue to be as enthusiastic and interested in all sports as they have been this year.

On behalf of the school, I should like to thank Miss Wright and Miss Keyser for their ever ready help and advice to us in all our sports.

GROUND HOCKEY

This year we were able to play many hockey matches before the snow brought the season to an end. After a few practice games, in which the more experienced players helped Miss Wright with some less skilled people, the matches began. Among the first were the House matches, between the first, second and third teams, during which we spent many exhausting afternoons. After a long struggle Montcalm was the victor, with Rideau a close second.

An exciting afternoon last fall was when the Staff played the School team. The spectators shouted themselves hoarse, and again there was a struggle but the girls won—5 to 1. Later we played the boys of B. C.S. and as the days were getting cooler it was a fast game. This is an annual event, and it proved to be even more enjoyable than in former years. The boys beat us by a score of 5 to 2.

Matches in which all took part, from the Juniors to the Senior Matrics, were the form games. In these VI-B was the winner. So on the whole this year's hockey has been very successful.

MARGARET BYLES. VI-B,

BASKETBALL

During the Easter term our indoor sport life centers around basketball. Many exciting hours were spent playing games between houses and forms this year.

When a match is scheduled, those who are not participating in the game at the time, watch anxiously from the balcony of the gym, following every move, cheering for their house or team, and eagerly awaiting the final score.

At the end of the season, Montcalm walked off victoriously, winning the deciding match against Rideau.

Second and third teams also were made up of each house, and in these games Rideau won giving them a standing of second place for this year's basketball; Macdonald coming third.

The most exciting game of the year was the annual Staff vs. School game. Every bit of energy and good playing had to be put forth to keep up with the Staff and even in the end, as in the last few years, the mistresses had the highest score, and the girls were worn out.

To some, most enjoyable of all, are the form matches. Matric and VI-B were the teams battling in the final match. VI-B were the victors in form basketball.

Basketball has provided many happy hours for King's Hall this year, and brought out amongst all a strong feeling of school and team spirit as well as good sportsmanship.

SKATING

Although we had only two or three weeks of skating this year, we got even more enjoyment out of it than usual because the ice was kept so well. As in the last few years, the tennis court served as a base for ice, and it was as smooth as an indoor rink. Many of the younger girls added "spice" to the scenery with their variously colored skating-dresses. Here and there, groups of two, threes, and even fours, were seen trying to make up a routine for imaginary exhibitions. However, with the excuse that there were not enough skating days, none of these were completed. Perhaps, next year, we shall have better weather so that the girls will be able to work up a real performance.

NORMA TASCHEREAU. Matric,

BASEBALL

Baseball has been played this year more than any other year. It started the first term with just enough people to play "scrub". Then more people began to come, until finally there were enough to play regular games.

This term there were enough players from each house so that there could be competitions. The first game that was played was between the houses of Montcalm and MacDonald. The second game was played between Montcalm and Rideau. The games were very exciting, and everyone on each team did her very best to help win.

THE GYM COMPETITION

The gym competition was held in February and met with great success. Several members from each form with a leader made up the groups. Each group went to the rings, horse and mat in turn and ended with a pyramid. The competition was judged by Miss Keyser, with Miss Wright assisting the performers. The Matrics won and the Juniors came second.

JUNIOR SPORTS

Although none of the sport championships have been won by the juniors, we all love sports.

In the fall we played quite a bit of ground hockey. We had one match against the VI-B's which did not prove very successful for us. We played nearly every day during the season.

In the winter we did a great deal of skating and skiing. Although the skiing was not very good for long we tried to make the best of it. Almost every afternoon some juniors were seen on the farm hill, trying to pass their tests. The tennis court was frozen into a skating rink and those who liked skating better than skiing went to skate instead.

When the weather was not good for skating or skiing we played basketball. Although we were not good enough to compete against the higher forms, we had a great deal of fun playing by ourselves.

In the spring some of us played a little baseball and there were several house games which we watched with interest.

Sometimes instead of gym, or in the afternoon or evening, Miss Wright let us go in swimming which was great fun. Some of the juniors are very good swimmers, especially Sheila Stewart.

About the middle of the summer term the whole school had a sports day. The juniors had their own events and showed great skill and energy in these.

VALERIE REID. V-B.

SPORTS DAY

This term we were all very much excited as we had a Sports Day. Everybody began to practise so hard when we were told about the sports, that we all got terribly stiff. Some people had "charley-horses," others had twisted muscles, or bad ankles, indeed, some people were so laid up that they could not go into the races or jumping at all.

There were three groups: the Seniors, the Intermediates, and the Juniors. The Juniors competed amongst themselves. The heats were run off Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and the finals were on Saturday. If any one girl won or did well in the competitions, the marks went to her house.

There were quite a number of races and competitions. The straight running races, the sack race, the three-legged race, the potato race, the obstacle race, and the high jumping. The obstacle race was great fun if you were in it, and very amusing for those who watched it! Some of the things we had to do in it were: putting on a pair of pyjamas, tying up our hair with six strips of cloth (which was very difficult for those who had short hair), drinking a cup of water with a straw, and eating a dry cracker with some jelly on it, off the ground. This was terrible, as one usually ate the earth instead of the cracker. Right after this we had to whistle God Save the King.

MacDonald won the sports, with sixty-eight points, and Rideau and Montcalm tied for second place with sixty-four.

After the sports, we all sat round a huge fire outside, and had hotdogs and cocoa, and sang songs. This was just as much fun as the sports which everyone had enjoyed so much.

JUNE BEAUMONT-NESBITT. V-B.

SKIING

The skiing was a little disappointing for us this year, as there seemed to be so much rain. Nevertheless the farm hill was used as much as ever.

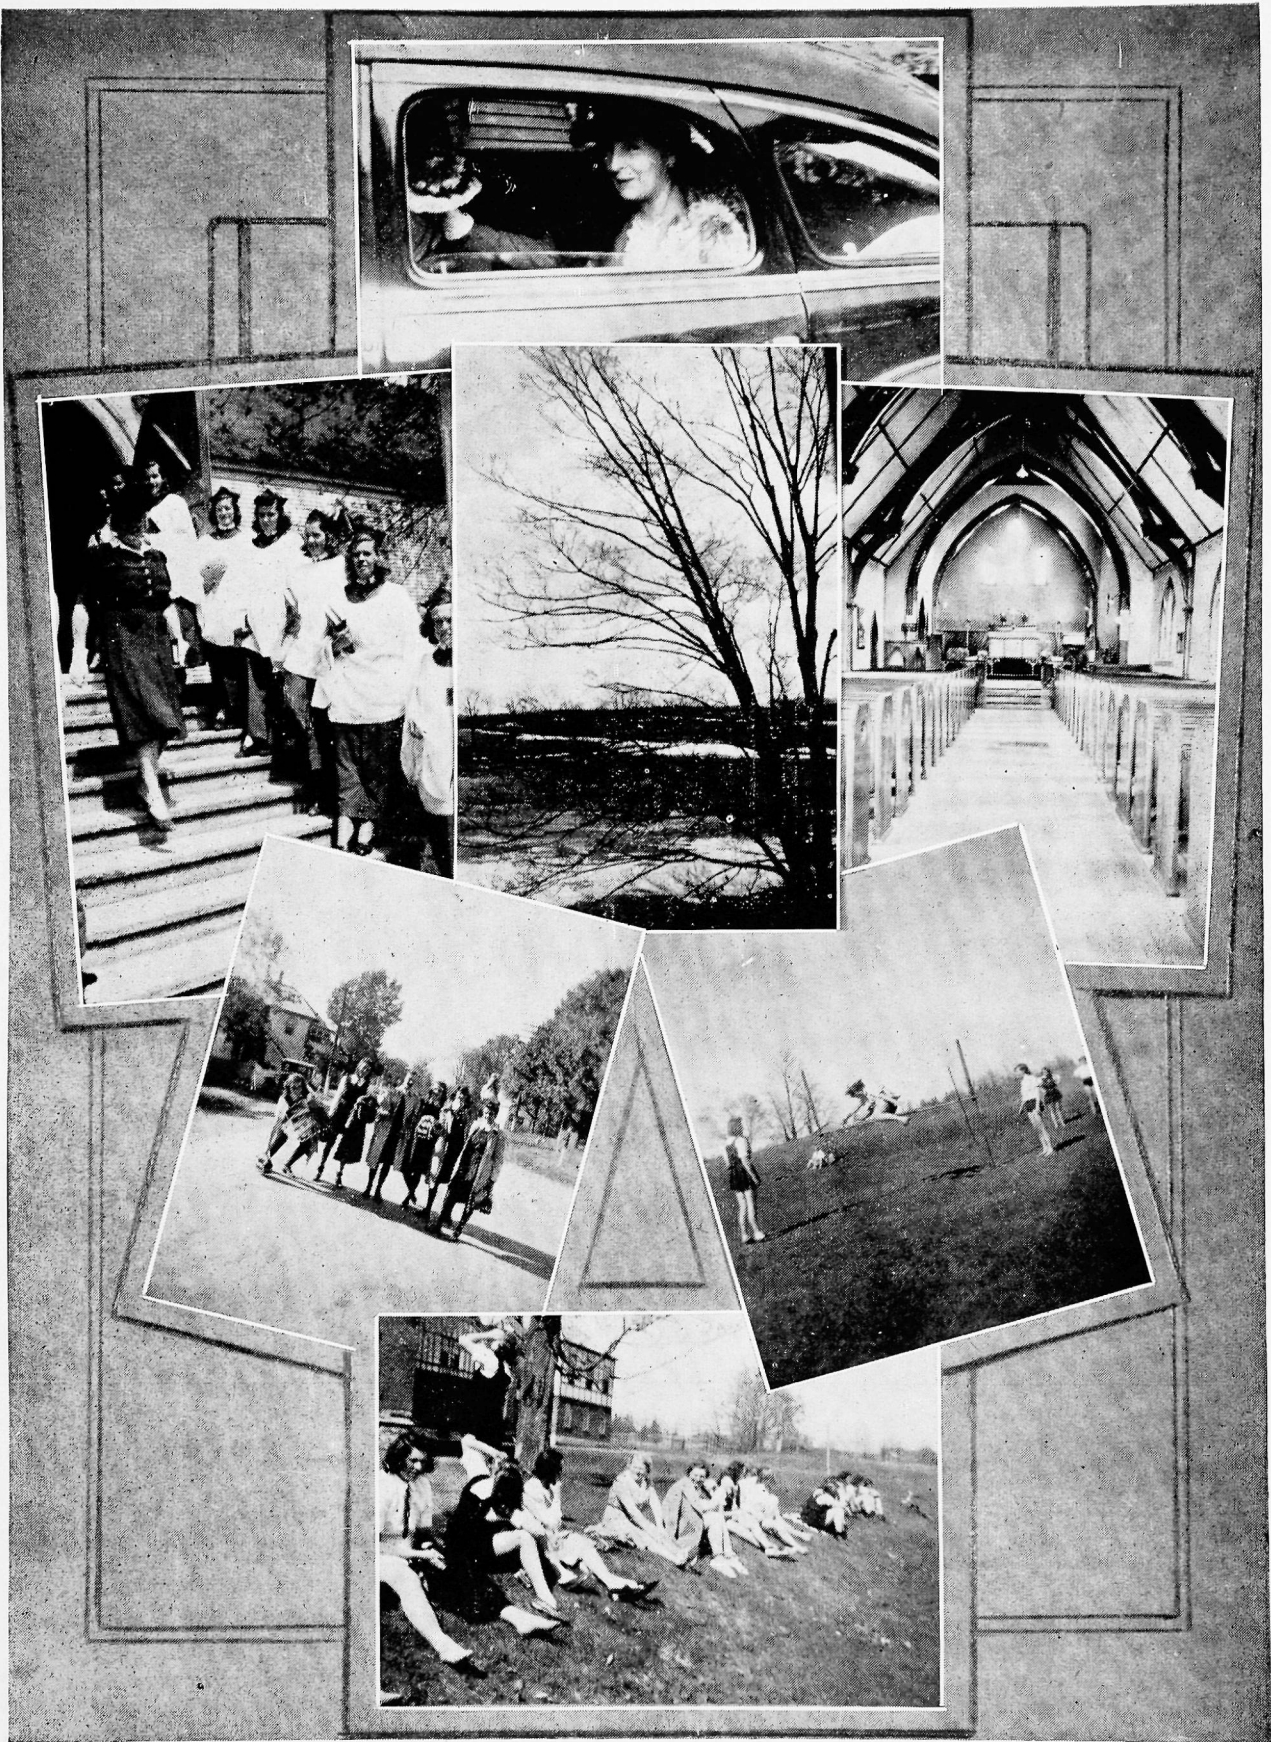

A number of girls passed their tests and as a result were allowed to explore the Coaticook woods and try their luck on "Death Trap" and "Tom Thumb".

At the request of Miss Gillard the "Pro" of last year came over from North Hatley three or four times. He helped many beginners to a much surer footing.

On the beautiful afternoon of February 10 some of the girls with their "A" test were taken to North Hatley where they enjoyed themselves thoroughly. While some remained on the well packed hill, others went cross-country. To conclude a perfect day they ate a wonderfully prepared meal at the Connaught.

Although there was not much snow during 1942, the girls made the most of it when it did arrive.

MARY MOLSON. Matric.

SWIMMING

This year we have not had swimming competitions as in former years. An aquacade between houses was prepared but owing to chicken-pox it could not be carried out. We did not swim at all during the winter term for this same reason, neither were there any life-saving classes this year. However, we did a great deal of swimming, especially in the last term, when we were able to go in the pool and do as we liked, swimming, diving or just splashing. There are many keen swimmers and divers so there is never any lack of enthusiasm among the girls.

JANETTE RILEY. VI-A.

BADMINTON

Badminton was again this year a favorite sport. Many entered and although some were eliminated before the finals they enjoyed every minute of it. The two in the finals this year were Nancy Baldwin and Hope Davidson. Both played extremely well and were equally matched. Nancy won but Hope put up a stiff fight for it. The doubles were won by Julia Mackenzie and Margaret Byles who also played an excellent game against Norma Taschereau and Elizabeth Johnson.

M. NORMAN. VI-A.

THE SLEIGH RIDE

On the night of the sleigh ride we raced downstairs to our lockers to find all the belongings that we wanted to wear. After we had gotten all the clothes we needed we went upstairs and started dressing. I, myself, put on a pair of pyjamas, a pair of pullovers and a pair of ski pants, also a ski shirt and two sweaters plus two pairs of socks and ski boots. I know that many other girls wore more than I did.

When at last we were all ready we heard the jingling of the sleigh bells and we knew that the sleighs had arrived.

The sleighs, being long trucking sleighs with straw covering the bottom, are pulled by a team of horses. This year there were five or six sleighs.

Soon everyone was crowded into the sleighs. Then we were off and the fun began. Girls started running from one sleigh to another, others pushed the unfortunates that were sitting on the edge of the sleighs into the snow. We went on like this for miles, under bridges, over hills and past farms. We went for about five miles altogether. One sleigh kept sliding off its runners and tipping the girls into the snow.

After the sleighs had drawn up at the door and everyone had tumbled out, we went upstairs and got into our pyjamas and dressing gowns and came downstairs to a nice cozy fire, cocoa and hot dogs. After we had eaten, some of the girls had a basketball match against the mistresses while the others looked on. Again this year the staff was victorious.

That night we went to bed tired but very happy.

SHIRLEY HARRISON. VI-B.

THE GLEE CLUB

This year the Glee Club has had more members than ever, and has had a very enjoyable and successful year under the direction of Miss Masten and Miss Roatham. This spring the Glee Club of Bishop's University came over to sing for us, after which our Glee Club sang a song at the request of the boys. On Ascension Sunday the Glee Club sang the anthem in church, and together with the choir sang the hymns and psalms.

THE JUNIOR RECITAL

The Junior Recital took place on a Sunday in the middle of the winter term. Most of us were very nervous, and consequently there was some noise back stage every now and then.

Out of all the Juniors, fifteen in number, there was only one girl who did not play and she collected the money which went to help buy Victory Bonds. In all I think we collected something like $4.50.

There were a few mistakes due to nervousness, but I think that the recital was successful.

PAT BENNETTS. V-B.

THE V-A BROADCAST

Everything was covered in a white mantle as the car sped along the slippery road, its chains clicking rapidly. Inside several girls and two mistresses talked and laughed nervously. Each girl held a sheet of music, a hymn book and a piece of paper. The car drove into Sherbrooke and presently stopped outside La Tribune building. When everyone had got out, the two mistresses—Miss Margaret Masten and Miss Louise Masten—led the way into the building and up the stairs into a tiny room. Here coats, hats and gloves were laid on chairs and everyone entered a larger room on the right. From the ceiling hung a microphone and a large wireless set told that a hockey game was at its height.

Miss M. Masten grouped the girls around the microphone, the soloists in front. Presently the hockey game ceased and through the large glass "window" at one side of the microphone, the announcer nodded. The programme had begun! Miss M. Masten announced: "The choral speaking choir of King's Hall are presenting a programme of poems and Christmas carols."

It went very successfully, everyone enjoyed herself and it was an exciting adventure.

SHEENA MACKINTOSH. V-A.

HALLOWE'EN

October 31 was upon us without warning and there was the usual rushing about trying to find materials, paper, cardboard, ribbons, etc. for costumes. On Friday night we had our Hallowe'en supper and the dining room was sufficiently spooky with cats and owls, witches and broomsticks, ghosts, bats, and skeletons on the walls and about the room. Everyone was properly scared when someone brushed her legs under the table and rushed on. It was a huge success.

Saturday night was the real masquerade and the costumes showed the effort employed. The matrices, who were our hostesses, were dressed in short chorus costumes of red, white, and blue with phosphorescent V's on the bodies. These were also painted on the music stands and a large picture in the background was also phosphorescent. When the lights were turned off we got the full effect of the design and exclamations came from all parts of the room amply rewarding the girls for their labor. The matrices were an orchestra and supplied us (via the gramophone) with many a tune.

The costumes were many and varied ranging from "Herr Goering" to "Mutt and Jeff" both of which received prizes. Miss Gillard presented the prizes with appropriate remarks and a group of V-A girls representing a gruesome execution won the first prize.

Afterwards Ann Ewens, the orchestra leader, presented the mistresses with characteristic tokens. Then we had a unique and entertaining floor show. The performers were all excellent.

Refreshments were served and when we finally tumbled into bed it was to dream of being chased by a ghost through a haunted house.

Mary Hartman. V-A.

RECITALS

This year we have had some very enjoyable recitals. The first recital was given by the Middle School one Sunday evening in November. Evening Pastorate by Gogard which was played by Shirley Erskine and Intermezzo sung by Margaret Anne Forbes were among the favorites. Our Christmas recital was given on our last Sunday before Christmas. The whole school took part and it was a great success. The senior girls held their recital in February. Quite a number took part, and they were all excellent, especially Anna Martin who played York Bowen's Snow Drop. In the middle of March the Junior recital was held and everybody played and sang very well. There was also a recital held for the examination pupils in May, and it was a great success despite the fact that their examination was very near.

We all wish to thank Miss Louise Masten and Miss Rootham for going to so much trouble to give us these very enjoyable recitals.

AMY FOWLER, V-A.

VI-B GOES TO MILBY

On Wednesday, May 20, six girls from 6-B went to Milby to present their play called Among Us Girls. The two Miss Mastens and Nancy Baldwin accompanied us.

After presenting the play we went and sat with the audience to join in community singing. We were then entertained by some singing and poetry. Nancy Baldwin sang two songs, God Send You Back to Me and Because.

Having had a very entertaining evening we returned home.

JOAN HEBDEN. VI-B.

THE CHOIR

This year the choir made one trip to the Coaticook Anglican Church during the winter term. We drove there in cars and we all enjoyed this added attraction very much. We sang the anthem "The Lord is My Shepherd." We did not go to any other church beside our own here at Compton, except for that visit to Coaticook. However, we sang the anthem Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring in our own church in the middle term. This year the choir was larger than previous years and this made it all the more enjoyable for us.

DIFFERENT ARTS OF THE YEAR AT K. H. C.

Each form except the matrices have at least one art class a week. Those who are more interested in art and feel that they need more, have special art every Thursday afternoon.

The juniors' pictures which are mostly done with water colours are very imaginative with quaint drawings of fairyland, forests, valleys, children and animals in fields or in busy streets and many other scenes which all show the originality of the younger girls. Finger painting is another fascinating art which they enjoy.

Metal work and leather work are among the handicrafts taught at King's Hall. Gloves, bookmarks, change purses, belts, corners for desk blotters, and picture frames, are the articles made with leather; and bracelets, penknives and napkin rings are the articles made of metal. Each article has some original design taught by the elementary study of the principles of design.

The juniors are very good in modelling little images in different coloured plasticine, while the older girls go in for the clay modelling of faces, figures, hands, etc., which take more skill and patience. After a clay model is finished, another girl may like to draw it; this is known as antique drawing.

Posters, advertising the drive for the mile of pennies have been made and sent to the I. O. D. E. in Sherbrooke. Three big murals have been made this year; two by four girls in 5-A, and the other by the art mistress, Miss MacPherson. The latter picture shows a great deal of imagination and skill.

SHERBROOKE BRANCH

ENGAGEMENTS

Andrea Baker of Lennoxville to Flight Sergeant John Falconer, Navigation Instructor at No. 8 S.F.T.S. Moncton, N.B.

Mrs. J. A. Donald (Marjorie Smith) has returned to Sherbrooke from Ceylon, where she lived in Colombo after her marriage. She has given several very interesting and enlightening talks to various organizations in Sherbrooke, including the Rotary Club.

Mrs. Scarth, the daughter of the Reverend Mr. Parker, for many years Chaplain at the School, has been spending the winter in Sherbrooke with her husband.

Miss Mary Chadwick is with the C.W.A.A.F. stationed at Victoriaville.

Miss Amy Stone, a former Art Mistress at King's Hall, has returned from England and is now at North Hatley. She conducts Art Classes in both Lennoxville and Stanstead.

Mrs. Bert Millward (Alexandra Newton) has returned to Sherbrooke, while her husband is overseas in the Air Force.

Miss Margaret Newton went overseas with the first group of recruits for the Mechanized Transport Corps in August 1941. Of the fourteen in the group, four were K. H. C. old girls—quite a record for the School.

as the recruiting covered Eastern Canada. Margaret Newton has transferred to the WRENS in England.

Miss Dorothy Newton has arrived in England, having also gone over with the M.T.C. Her group may have been the last allowed to leave Canada and if so we have had members of our branch in the first and last groups of the M.T.C. going to England.

Miss Joan Jenckes is leaving shortly to join the the C.W.A.A.F.

Miss Mary Ward is graduating from Bishop's this year. She has been president of the Women Students for the past year and is being followed in office by Miss Elizabeth Hume.

Miss Meg Aitken played prominent parts in the Bishop's plays this year. The standard of acting is very high at the College, so it is an honour to be chosen as a member of the cast.

Miss Helen Kelly was the star of the basketball team at Bishop's and was also a member of the Theatre Group.

Millicent Price, 1920-24, is now serving as a member of the F.A.N.Y. (First Aid Nursing Yeomanry) having gone overseas early in October. Milly joined the Red Cross Transport Service in Quebec as soon as it was formed and took training in First Aid, Home Nursing, Mechanics and Signalling throughout the winter of 1940-1941. After finishing her mechanics course she worked in the Army Service Corps garage helping with repair work on army vehicles of all types. Last summer when Canadian girls were given the opportunity of volunteering for overseas service, Milly applied and was asked if she would serve with the Polish Forces which were in need of transport drivers; this she readily agreed to do and paid her own way to England. The Poles have provided billets and a mess for each unit otherwise the services of the workers are gratis. Milly, after a week's leave, upon landing in England, was sent to Norfolk to take a two weeks' course. She was then sent to join a unit and has written describing several schemes and drives in the black-out. Christmas was spent with her unit and the Poles invited the F.A.N.Y.'s to their Christmas entertainment, held in a large hall with a Christmas tree at each end, all the decorations having been made by the Poles themselves who collected all the empty egg shells from the local bakery and painted and decorated them and put them on the trees. During the evening the senior Polish officers broke bread and gave a piece to each man present, then kissed each one on either cheek; this is a very sacred and solemn ritual and denotes friendship and goodwill. Milly writes of the wonderful spirit and courage of the Poles and of their undying gratitude to Britain and her people who have given them so much help and encouragement. Many Polish men are still escaping and have the most harrowing tales to tell.

If any of the O.G.A. would like to write Milly the following address will find her:
